Happy Summer everyone, wanted to give you an update!!

July 2019

The kids are taking sewing lessons. The seamstress comes to our house. They love it! Hopefully they'll be able to make their own school uniforms instead of us hiring someone ever year. Notice it's not electric, but the old fashioned treadle machine that is still used all over in third world countries. The class includes making their own patterns to fit each individual. Lots of homework!! So very good for them and something they enjoy over summer vacation.

Nomill is our mason. He's so talented!! He's also our neighbor and it's nice to be able to help him. He has done a lot of work for us lately and doesn't charge a lot. Look how he made leaf imprints from our breadfruit tree.

Got a huge load of broken tile. The boys' bedroom has been a dusty cement floor mess.

Look what my neighbor fisherman caught and sold me for $11. What a treat!!!! It fed Wesley and me lunch and dinner.

This is Regina. Her Mom didn't want her so she gave her to the Grandma who couldn't afford her, so she asked us if we'd take her. She has a cleft palate and was born with no fingers. She is very sweet and will start school next fall .

I contacted SMILE TRAIN at their main office in New York City

because I know they travel to third world countries for surgeries. To my surprise they have a permanent clinic in Cap Haiti about 6 hours north of us. Regina is now on their waiting list and they cover all surgery costs including transportation. A huge blessing!!!!

This mother of 6 children showed up at my gate asking me to get her "twins" adopted for her.

Her husband was killed in an accident 4 months ago. She doesn't even have enough finances to feed her other children. Our finances right now just aren't enough to care for anybody outside the orphanage so I told her I'd see what I could do. (But thinking um.....not me, I'm not capable). God woke me up at 4am that next morning reminding me of James 1:27 that we are to look after orphans and widows. NOT JUST ORPHANS ANN!!!!!!

This is her new baby

Oh great!! Here I go again. What am I suppose to do here God??!! It was so easy!! The first and greatest orphanage that I called said they'd take the mother and care for her until she had the babies and get them adopted. But.....the Mom refused to go until I found a way to feed her children. So, I called my Christina Surber, one of my very favorite missionaries from Supply & Multiply and she agreed to deliver food twice a month to this Mom and her six children. I've yet to find a sponsor to pay this organization $100 monthly so please pray!!

So I hired a driver and Dago drove her two hours up in the mountains so she could rest, get food and be cared for. Mom said she was having twins and was 7 months pregnant.

Guess what?? Forty minutes after Dago dropped her off she had this beautiful baby boy. No twins!!

Mom is back home with her children and God so blessed this situation!!!!

Thank you for all your prayers and support. God bless you all for giving these kids a life where they learn about Jesus and how He loves them!!

Ann
