Happy Fall!

October 2022

I left for Haiti June 20th with return tickets for the baby and me for July 6th. Her car seat was all hooked up in my car and appointment for the plastic surgeon scheduled. The US Embassy denied her visa! They said I didn't have enough proof that I would return her to Haiti.

Instead of being angry, I decided to put my trust in God knowing He's in control, not me. I started praising Him in the middle of my storm. Why can't we always do that??!! It works and it says in His Word to do that and He will bless us. So I hired an American lawyer in Haiti and started getting documents and photos to prove I'll bring her back! After being there three months I just returned from Haiti without baby "Annie".

You can't imagine the extreme violence, roadblocks, lootings, kidnappings, no gas or diesel, and food prices skyrocketing, and cholera right now. The echo of guns being fired at all times of the day, even waking you up on the middle of the night. I was forced to leave because as my night security guard, Yamen told me, "it's not safe for an American woman to be here now and if someone comes in the gate to get you, I will have to shoot them and it will be dangerous for the children." Also the US Embassy stated that all Americans should leave.

< This is the only way to buy gas now, black market - and quite often gas and diesel aren't available at all

Annie has slept beside me every night and I did all of her care. It was heartwrenching to leave her but I have a nanny taking over for me and my kids and rest of staff love her and also help. I'm blessed for that. As soon as it gets safe again I'll return, and, this time I am speaking and believing God will use His Divine Intervention and we will get her visa for her surgeries. She's doing well on formula and black bean and carrot juice but she needs her surgeries so she can eat real food.

Even Montrouis isn't safe anymore with multiple roadblocks. The last ten days I was there I wasn't allowed to leave the gate. They looted our gas station/party store and took everything and then looted 7 mansions on the beach belonging to rich people in Port au Prince. The kids aren't even able to go to school yet because it's not safe and there's no fuel.

So right before I left we didn't have enough food in our depot to last three days. I knew it would be almost impossible to purchase because trucks can't travel. So I walked out on my little balcony looked up and cried out to God. "God, You sent manna from heaven, You fed five thousand people with 5 loaves of bread and a few fish and You haven't changed, You're still the same so send us food." He did!! Roberto, my good friend found food and the motorcycle driver made 5 or 6 trips with bags of rice, beans, corn and oil, canned fish, eggs, sugar, corn flakes, powdered milk, spaghetti, laundry soap etc. to last about three to four weeks. I can't explain it but I do know God did it. I want faith like that all the time!!!! Why do we doubt and allow anxiety, stress, and worry in our lives when we have the Holy Spirit in our hearts!!

Our Story ♥ Our Home ♥ Our Love

The kids are great and we are a family not an orphanage.

Ages 11 months to age 22 and they get along so well and care for each other. Just another thing I'm on awe and so grateful for.

Thank God I had the second well dug with hand pump. There is no diesel to run our generator to pump water to the water tank. We drink and use our well water for showers and laundry. Our beautiful solar panels give us electricity even after dark then our solar yard lights kick on when power is done. We are so blessed!!

us up and flew us to Port au Prince.

In order to leave Haiti four of us took the little boat across the ocean to Haiti's little island, Loganave, then rode in the back of a pickup to the little dirt runway. The pilot missionaries picked Dominican Republic. As soon as it's safe he'll travel to the Dominican Republic where a Haitian missionary there will help him find a job, hopefully on a cruise ship.

Thank you for your prayers and financial support. You make it possible and give us food, healthcare, education, clothing etc.

God bless you all abundantly, Ann
